BASEBALL CLINIC 2019

From Monday, June 24th through Thursday, June 27th, and from Monday, July 15th through Thursday, July 18th, Williston Baseball Coach Matt Sawyer, along with Jonathan Toth '20 and other Williston players, will be running two baseball clinics for 10-14 year olds at Galbraith Fields on the Williston Northampton campus. The clinics will run from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm each day. The fundamentals of throwing, catching, fielding, and hitting will be covered each day. There will also be opportunities for pitchers and catchers to get instruction in those particular positions as well. 12 through 14 year old players will get to work on the 60/90 diamond. High level baseball thinking and game strategy will be covered as players will have the opportunity to compete each day in short games. The cost of the clinic will be $200.00 per player.

There will be a cap at 30 players for each session so that each player can receive lots of personal instruction from the coaches.

Matt Sawyer played outfield at Amherst College and has been the head coach at Williston for the past 25 years. Jonathan Toth has been starting as a middle infielder for the Williston varsity team since his freshman year. He was named a Western New England Prep Baseball League all-star in 2017 and 2018. Jonathan follows in the footsteps of other Williston players who have worked these clinics: Erik Ostberg '14, Tampa Bay Rays; Ian Ostberg '17, Quinnipiac University; and Tim Fay '18, Gettysburg College.

Galbraith Fields on the Williston campus features a batting cage, a smaller, skin infield, a 60/90 field, and lots of space for drill work. Each camper will receive a clinic t-shirt. Lunch will NOT be provided.
