

BASEBALL CLINICS 2021

From Monday, June 21st through Thursday, June 24th, and from Monday, June 28th through Thursday, July 1st, Williston Baseball Coach Matt Sawyer, along with Will Sawyer '22 and other Williston players, will be running two baseball clinics for 10-14 year olds at Galbraith Fields on the Williston Northampton campus. The clinics will run from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm each day. The fundamentals of throwing, catching, fielding, and hitting will be covered each day. There will also be opportunities for pitchers and catchers to get instruction in those particular positions as well. 12 through 14 year old players will get to work on the 60/90 diamond. High level baseball thinking and game strategy will be covered as players will have the opportunity to compete each day in short games. The cost of a week of clinics will be $220.00 per player. There are discounts for multiple participants from the same family; check in with Coach Sawyer about those discounts.

There will be a cap at 30 players for each session so that each player can receive lots of personal instruction from the coaches.

Matt Sawyer played outfield at Amherst College and has been the head coach at Williston for the past 27 years. Will has been starting for the Williston varsity team since his freshman year. For the third summer in a row, he will be playing for a high-level travel team. This summer he will play for the Powerhouse Bulldogs prospect team. Will follows in the footsteps of other Williston players who have worked these clinics: Erik Ostberg '14, Tampa Bay Rays; Justin Frometa '16, Boston Red Sox Scout; Ian Ostberg '17, captain of Quinnipiac University; and Tim Fay '18, Gettysburg College.

Galbraith Fields on the Williston campus features a batting cage, a smaller, skin infield, a 60/90 field, and lots of space for drill work. Each camper will receive a clinic t-shirt. Lunch will NOT be provided.
